DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Applicant's submission filed on 11/30/06 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claim is indefinite because the term "the first water level". Thereby it is not clear from what point the time has to elapse.

It is also not clear what is referenced as determining the elapsed time based upon the number of the re-supply time. It appears that Fig. 2 shows two different steps 205 and 206 used in the process of the invention. The one determines the time, the other compares the number of re-supplies.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this

Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.
(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

5. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e, e) as being anticipated by Kim et al (US Patent No 6,842,929, US 2003/0041390).

Kim et al teach a method as claimed. See entire document, especially Figures 2-4 and description at Detailed Description of the Illustrated Embodiment.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 11/30/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicants allege that Kim et al do not teach counting a number of water re- supply times and comparing the number to a predetermined value (claims 1-8) or a predetermined number (claim 9) and adjusting the settings when the number exceed the predetermined value or number.

This is not persuasive:

First, claims 1-6 do not even define what is referenced as "value".

Art Unit: 1746

Second, claims do not specify how the numbers are compared. It is noted that the comparing step does not exclude calculations.

Third, Kim et al teach comparing. See at least Figures 2-4 and column, 5, line 20 - column 7, line 65. The fact that Kim et al teach some additional steps does not negate the fact that the claimed steps are disclosed.

The applicants further argue that Kim et al do not teach resting second (minimum) water level based upon comparison of the number of the water re-supply times with a predetermined value (number).

This is not persuasive.

The examiner would like to note that the step of resetting is not related to any other processing step. The claims do not recite repeating the steps of supplying and/or re-supplying and/or determining with the reset second (minimum) level. The claims do not require the reset level being different from the initial one. The claims do not require filling to the reset level.

The examiner's position is that the referenced step is met at least by the step of setting of the washing parameters disclosed in column 7, lines 35-65.
